Certain complexes require media adapters which may be obtained from the Office of Conference and Guest Services for a $150 credit card deposit. When received by Georgetown University, the Occupancy Agreement is binding for the entire term indicated and no refund will be made for early departure or “no show.” Carefully read Section V of the Occupancy Agreement to understand its terms and conditions.

If you wish to bring to our attention a medical condition or other special need and request a housing accommodation, please complete the request form on the website, housing.georgetown.edu/summer, and submit it with this Occupancy Agreement for review and response.

Return the signed and completed Occupancy Agreement to the address below as soon as possible since space is assigned on a first-come, first-served basis. The Office of Conference and Guest Services will mail the building assignment and arrival instructions approximately four weeks after the receipt of your Occupancy Agreement. Room assignments will be made upon arrival. To ensure a smooth check-in, verify that your charges are paid in full prior to your arrival if you sent your payment close to your arrival date. Without full payment, check-in will not be permitted.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF OCCUPANCY OF UNIVERSITY RESIDENCES DURING THE SUMMER

1. The occupant is responsible for the care and condition of the residence (the room, apartment, or townhouse to which the occupant has been assigned) covered by this agreement, including, but not limited to, the walls, floors, carpets, furniture, etc. The residence must be left in move-in condition upon departure. The Occupant agrees to pay the cost of repairs for any damages and the cost of any special cleaning needed to return the residence to its move-in condition. The need for and the costs of any such repairs or cleaning is within the sole discretion of the University.

2. The general cleanliness, upkeep and condition of the residences are important to the health and welfare of the Georgetown University community. To further this goal, the occupant and the University agree that the University reserves the right to enter an occupant’s residence for administrative, safety, or regulatory purposes. The occupant and the University also agree that the University may enter an occupant’s residence as outlined in the Georgetown University Student Handbook* (including specifically the Handbook policy on search and seizure), as it may be amended from time-to-time. It is expressly agreed that members of the University staff may enter an occupant’s residence for administrative purposes such as, but not limited to, facility maintenance and repairs including painting, furniture delivery, removal or care of furniture, maintenance and safety inspections, and general housekeeping. After knocking and waiting a reasonable period of time, entry may be made. If an occupant is not present in the residence when entry is made, a note may be left indicating the person or persons entering and the reasons for doing so.

3. The University is not responsible for the loss of, or damage to, any property of the occupant. The University recommends that individuals carry insurance on their belongings.

4. The University does not permit the use of any of its facilities for any commercial purposes whatsoever. Solicitation and gambling are expressly prohibited.

5. All animals, except animals trained to aid people with disabilities, are prohibited in all campus buildings.

6. No personal heating, air-conditioning, cooling, or cooking apparatus shall be allowed in residences. The only types of cooking appliances permitted in any room in a residence hall are UL approved coffeepots or “hot-pots” with self contained heating units and hot air popcorn poppers. Cooking is only permitted in designated areas of the residence halls which are located in the fourth and ninth floor community rooms of Harbin and the community rooms on each floor in Copley, Darnall and LXR. Occupants may use existing facilities in these locations to prepare food for themselves. Occupants who are assigned to apartments may provide other small cooking appliances for personal use as long as they are UL approved and have self contained heating units.

7. Television or radio antennas and satellite dishes are not permitted.

8. Installation of washing machine, dryer or dishwasher is prohibited unless such equipment has been installed and provided by the University.

9. All occupants and their guests must abide by current University policies, District of Columbia laws, and Federal laws including, but not limited to, those dealing with fire safety, intoxicants, narcotics, drugs, and weapons. In particular, occupants must abide by the university’s Code of Conduct as set out in the Georgetown University Student Handbook* and any other policies specific to a campus program in which they are participating. Occupants are responsible for the proper disposal of waste. District of Columbia law requires that all cans, bottles, paper, and newspapers must be recycled. District of Columbia law prohibits smoking in all public areas of the University, including all areas of the Leavey Center. Smoking is permitted in residences by mutual agreement of all assigned to share the residence.

10. Male and female occupants may be housed on the same floor of a residence hall but will be provided with separate sleeping accommodations and bathroom facilities. Shared rooms or apartments are reserved for married couples or occupants of the same sex.

11. Any individuals staying in a residence for one or more nights must be registered and paying guests. Permission and arrangements for guests may be made by contacting the University Office of Conference and Guest Services.

12. The University will use its best efforts to provide staff on duty who can be contacted for assistance or emergencies.

13. This Occupancy Agreement shall constitute a license and shall not be deemed to constitute a lease or to create or transfer an interest in or lien on real estate. The University may revoke the license in accordance with the procedures, obligations and regulations stated in the Georgetown University Student Handbook*, as it may be amended from time-to-time and the terms of this agreement. Subject to the University’s right of revocation, the occupant agrees that this agreement shall remain in force for the full term of the occupancy.

14. Any roommate incident resulting in physical threat or destructive action may force the reassignment of involved occupant(s) into temporary housing per the University’s discretion. An occupant who is suspended or dismissed from the University must remove all belongings, return the key, and vacate within 48 hours of the action or by the closing of the residential facilities, whichever occurs first. If the Occupant fails to vacate within the 48 hours, the University may take possession of the assigned space, remove and dispose of the Occupant’s belongings at the Occupant’s risk and expense, change the locks to the premises, and charge all costs associated with this change to the Occupant. The Occupant who is suspended or dismissed may be assigned to temporary housing and may be granted access to the original assignment if circumstances permit. An escort will accompany the suspended or dismissed Occupant if necessitated by his or her conduct.

15. The University reserves the right:
   a) to levy and collect charges for damages to, unauthorized use of, or alterations to residences, equipment or buildings, and for special cleaning necessitated by improper use of its facilities;
   b) to reassign occupants to other accommodations on campus after timely notification;
   c) to bar any occupant from the campus and the residences if, in the sole opinion of the University, the individual’s conduct is injurious or potentially injurious to the University or members of the University community;
   d) to retain any payment made by, or on behalf of, any occupant barred from the campus or residences;
   e) to terminate the reservation of any occupant if, in the sole opinion of the University, unforeseen events make it inadvisable or illegal or impossible to provide the required facilities;
   f) upon timely notification, to add or delete from these policies any clause or clauses whatsoever.

*The Georgetown University Student Handbook, published by the Office of Student Affairs, is available for your information in the Office of Conference and Guest Services 100 Harbin Hall.
